Primary Plan Holder Rules

Due to HIPAA privacy and security laws, the primary plan holder only has access to their own PHI and the PHI of their underage dependents. They do not have access to a spouse's PHI or the PHI of adult dependents.

For the primary plan holder to see their spouse's PHI, the spouse and adult dependent must each create a portal account, log in, and use the "Family Settings" tool to grant the primary access to personal PHI.

Spouse Granting Access

Due to HIPAA privacy and security laws, the spouse only has access to their own PHI. They do not have access to a spouse's PHI or to the PHI of dependents.

For the spouse to see their primary's PHI, the primary plan holder and adult dependents must each create a portal account, log in, and use the "Family Settings" tool to grant the spouse access to personal PHI.

Adult Dependents Granting Access

Due to HIPAA privacy and security laws, the dependent over 18 only has access to their own PHI. They do not have access to the parents' PHI or to the PHI of other dependents.

For the adult dependent to see their parents' PHI, the parents (primary plan holder and spouse) must each create a portal account, log in, and use the "Family Settings" tool to grant the adult dependent access to personal PHI.
